Wills, Probate & Planning for the Future

Ensuring peace of mind for you and your loved ones

Wills, Probate & Planning for the Future

As you get older, careful planning will give you peace of mind that, should anything happen to you, your family will be taken care of.

Our experience in this field means you can have confidence that we'll work with you to advise you on all aspects relating to planning for your future.

Wills & Trusts

Drafting a will is vitally important, as it sets out exactly what you want to happen to your assets when you die. For loved ones left behind, managing finances and assets without a will can be a very difficult process.

As members of the Certainty National Will Register, our team has a wealth of experience and knowledge required to support you throughout the process of creating a will.

We can help you with the following;

- The needs and requirements of those you leave behind
- The size of your estate
- The implication of inheritance tax
- Whether a trust in any form is appropriate

Lasting Power of Attorney

With dementia and other debilitating illnesses on the rise, it's now becoming extremely important to create a lasting power of attorney.

This involves legally appointing an Attorney who will take full control of your affairs in the event that you can no longer make your own decisions.

Two types of LPA are available. Whether you choose one or both is completely up to you. However, we will always give impartial advice and guidance.

1. Health & Welfare LPA
 2. Property & Financial LPA

Probate & Estate Administration

After someone passes away, there is often a great deal of financial and legal work to be done to successfully fulfil the wishes laid out in the will.

Although this responsibility usually lies with the executor of the will, the individual will first need to apply for the legal authority to do so.

Intestacy (no will)

When someone dies without leaving a will, their estate passes according to the rules of intestacy. This can be very complicated and often involve numerous beneficiaries. The law dictates who inherits your estate and it may go to somebody you would not wish it to go to.

We can help you with:

- Liaising with the undertaker
 - Obtaining details of your estate
 - Locating the correct beneficiaries if there is no will
 - Applying for the correct grant of representation
 - Liaising with the appropriate tax authorities
 - Releasing and distributing assets/estate in accordance with the will or rules of intestacy
